

A workshop for Parents and Educators

What Works and Why – Successful Strategies at Home and in School

Students can find tasks like planning and organizing their work to be insurmountable obstacles to success in school and work. Whether from an inability to break larger tasks into smaller ones or to establish time lines by which they can complete long term projects and assignments, these individuals are seemingly procrastinating out of laziness or poor work ethic when in reality their resources in executive functioning are not sufficient to the tasks they face. This presentation will explain the problems and offer concrete suggestions that can be used by students and their parents to become more organized and attentive.

Tuesday, March 2, 2010

7:00 PM to 9:00 PM

C.T. Barkalow Middle School

Sponsored by the Freehold Township Schools Department of Educational Services in collaboration with the Parent Advisory Council for Excellence

Guest Speakers:

Marie Segal, Ed.D.

Joan Di Trolio, M.A.

Dr. Segal is a graduate of Lehigh University, where she received her doctorate in Educational Psychology. She is certified as both a Learning Disability Teacher-Consultant and a Licensed School Psychologist. Dr. Segal serves as the Director of the Institute of Child Study at Kean University, Coordinator of the LDT-C post-graduate program, and professor in the Department of Special Education. She is the President of the NJ Chapter of the Council for Exceptional Children's Division of Learning Disabilities and named as one of the 100 Educational Leaders in the Nation in the area of Learning Disabilities.

Ms. Di Trolio is a graduate of Catholic University where she received her master's in Guidance and Counseling. She is also certified as a School Social Worker, and preschool through elementary teacher. In her capacity as an adjunct professor at Kean University, Ms. Di Trolio teaches courses in the areas of families and multicultural learners. Additionally, her experience includes responsibilities as the clinical director of an adolescent mental health center and a school social worker.

We hope to see you there!

RSVP to [gfferraro@freehold twp.k12.nj.us](mailto:gfferraro@freehold twp.k12.nj.us)

Educational staff will receive PD hours